

1. Normalization is the restructuring of databases to minimize redundancies and reduce data anomalies.
2. A table is in 1NF when:
 - a. All key attributes are defined
 - b. There are no repeating groups in the table
 - c. All attributes are dependent on the primary key
3. A table is in 2NF when:
 - a. It is in 1NF
 - b. There are no partial dependencies
4. A table is in 3NF when:
 - a. It is in 2NF
 - b. There are no transitive dependencies

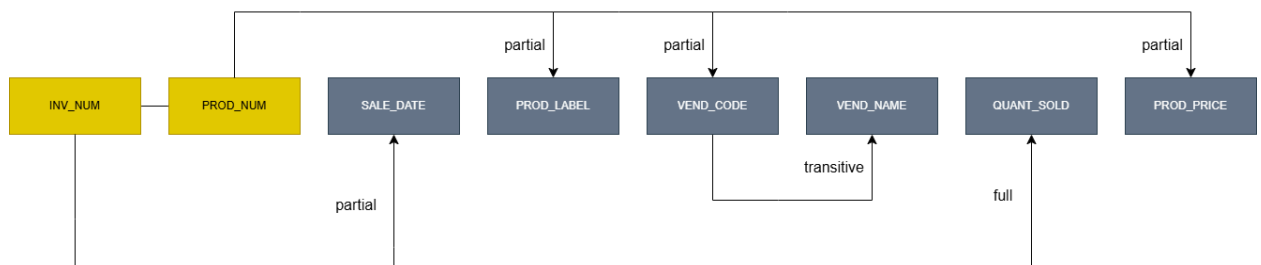

Table name: Invoice

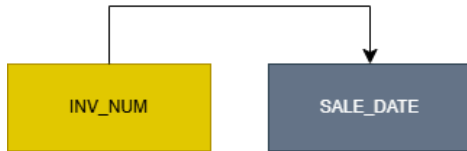

Table name: Product

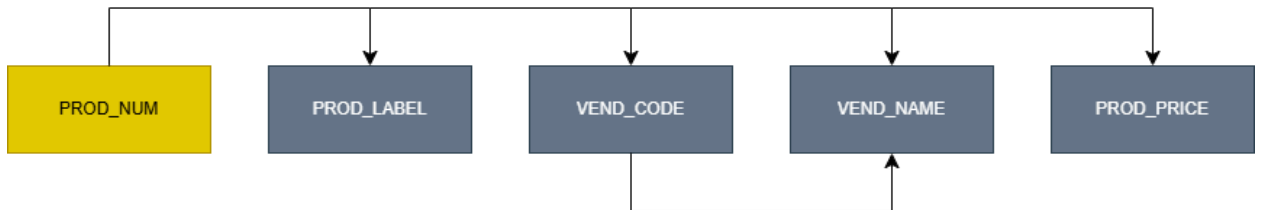

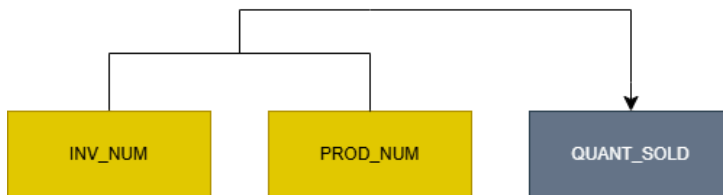

Table name: Invoice Item

6.

Table name: Vendor

Table name: Invoice

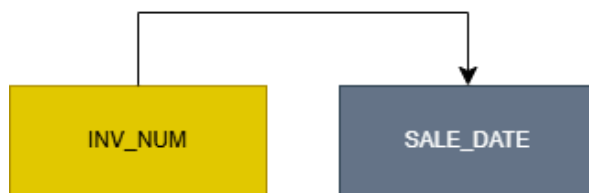

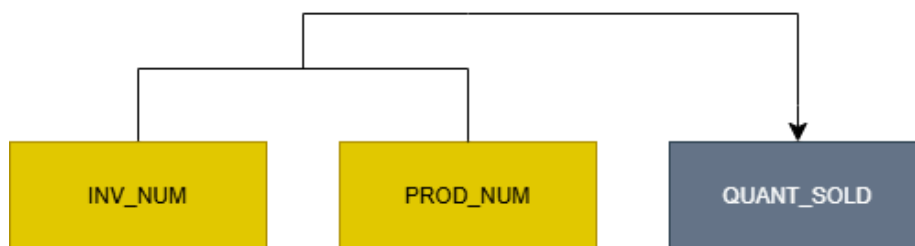

Table name: Product

Table name: Invoice Item

7.